Project Description, Analysis, and Conclusion

The applicant, the Essen Haus restaurant, requests approval of a conditional use and specific implementation plan (SIP) alteration to re-approve a seasonal sand volleyball court in their parking lot behind the restaurant. This request is subject to the review standards for conditional uses and planned developments.

The Plan Commission approved a similar request in 2013 to first establish a sand volleyball court at this site. The site is zoned as a planned development and allowed uses are listed in the site-specific zoning text. The 2013 approval established sand volleyball as a conditional use on the subject site. In response to concerns from nearby residents, the applicant agreed to make that approval on a one-year “trial” basis. That approval expired at the end of last summer.

A letter of intent and a proposed management plan titled "Volleyball at Essen Haus" is attached. Plans show that 16 parking stalls would be seasonally converted into one sand volleyball court. This seasonal improvement would run from the first week of May through the first week of September. The proposed court hours of operation are from 5:30 pm to 10:30 pm Monday through Friday and from 12:00 pm until 9:00 pm on Sundays. The applicant has requested a revision to the submitted operating plan and also wishes to operate volleyball on Saturdays, with the courts closing at 9 pm.

No extra speakers or sound producing devices will be added. Unlike the 2013 approval, the applicant is not proposing to install a mesh barrier around the court to deflect sound. This was tried last season and was believed by the applicant to be ineffective in deflecting court noise and in fact, caused more noise impacts when wind rattled the barrier.

A new lighting plan has not been provided. Staff understands that court lighting would comply with what was approved last summer. That Plan was approved by Building Inspection.

During last summer's operation, City Engineering and Building Inspection raised concerns on sand from the court washing into the storm sewers. Previously, the court was lined with a large silt "sock" to retain the sand. Engineering requests a more permanent solution be used this season. To contain sand, the applicant proposes a membrane-lined, treated timber retaining wall base set atop drain tile. Engineering has requested further information be provided. A 16 foot tall net will be installed surrounding the entire court perimeter to keep volleyballs from leaving the playing area.

Other than concerns on sand, the Planning Division was not aware of issues raised on the operation of the court. At the time of report writing, staff had not received any other comments on this proposal. If approved, this request could operate beyond this year without further Plan Commission action. Staff notes that as a conditional use, the Plan Commission retains "continuing jurisdiction" to review and resolve complaints that may arise on the operation of the volleyball court.
