Hi, Yang and Aidan. Here is another email about the tragic pedestrian crash fatality on Park St that appears to be just addressed to me.

Aidan - Please save this in Legistar under this item on the 2/18 TC agenda.

Yang - I just sent you an update regarding these emails I have been receiving. I believe my best response is to have this on the TC agenda for public discussion, so I do not plan to reply to each email individually.

Best,
Ann

Dear Ms. Kovich:

I am writing to you as a parent after the tragic death of 17-year-old Sasha Rosen. Any parent knows that this tragedy is one of the worst nightmares a parent can have. Each day when we send our children off to school we have to hope that the adults around them will keep them safe.

In this case, we failed Sasha and his family. If anything can come of this horrific tragedy it is that we can come together as a community and institute measures that can possibly save another child's life.

I urge you to put into place commonly used solutions for traffic safety, in order to save another family from such grief. Such measures could include: speed bumps along Park Street, flashing lights at crosswalks, increased police presence, or other such measures. Let's work for a better future for our children,

Leora Saposnik
