We apologize for the behavior of one of our employees this weekend. He is no longer with our company. We are cooperating fully with the authorities. We're also looking for a little help, so DM if you're interested in working. Friendly folks only.

Duane Buscher Serious question, how did you not know there was a gun in that truck??

Leia's Lunchbox I appreciate your question and can understand your incredulity. I assure you we did not not know the employee brought the gun. It's pretty common for people to bring a bag or backpack to work and people are not typically searched at the start of a shift.

Duane Buscher Thanks for the reply. The wife is a member of Moms Demand Action for Gun Sense so we take this seriously. Benefit of the doubt to you.

Erica Frye So, so sorry this is happening to you and the business. It's so unfortunate how one employee's terrible decision is reflecting on an awesome establishment.
