

To whom it may concern,

For the past thirty seven years Dale and Deb Wells and Kenn and Dody Roehl have not only shared their lives, but also their children. Since Dale and Deb had their first born is when they met the Roehls and from then on they raised their families together. Living next door to each other they shared a special bond of friendship. This is a bond so beautiful of how these two families have grown up together and made so many memories, still to this day. Dale and Deb invested into this opportunity for the future, with full faith in themselves and the others involved that they will all give 100%. They are willing to put their heart and souls dedication to show their true inspiration and all they have learned throuTo whom it may concern,

For the past thirty seven years Dale and Deb Wells and Kenn and Dody Roehl have not only shared their lives, but also their children. Since Dale and Deb had their first born is when they met the Roehls and from then on they raised their families together. Living next door to each other they shared a special bond of friendship. This is a bond so beautiful of how these two families have grown up together and made so many memories, still to this day. Dale and Deb invested into this opportunity for the future, with full faith in themselves and the others involved that they will all give 100%. They are willing to put their heart and souls dedication to show their true inspiration and all they have learned throughout life. They want this chance to give to the community something they will always be remembered by. For the past two months myself and many others have been working so hard to prepare this restaurant for a new beginning for each of our lives. Nobody is perfect and everyone makes mistakes, but it is how we learn from them that makes us who we really are. This is a once in a lifetime opportunity and is more important to us than we can ever express. It has given us full faith and hope that you can achieve your goals and dreams and excel from your greatest strengths and attributes when given the right chance. This is who we are and we are taught to never give up, always believe in ourselves. To learn from each moment, each experience, good or bad and apply it to life and reality in the most positive and beneficial way to all involved. Thank you for taking the time to read this letter and I hope it will give you a better understanding of all the people involved.

ghout life. They want this chance to give to the community something they will always be remembered by. For the past two months myself and many others have been working so hard to prepare this restaurant for a new beginning for each of our lives. Nobody is perfect and everyone makes mistakes, but it is how we learn from them that makes us who we really are. This is a once in a lifetime opportunity and is more important to us than we can ever express. It has given us full faith and hope that you can achieve your goals and dreams and excel from your greatest strengths and attributes when given the right chance. This is who we are and we are taught to never give up, always believe in ourselves. To learn from each moment, each experience, good or bad and apply it to life and reality in the most positive and beneficial way to all involved. Thank you for taking the time to read this letter and I hope it will give you a better understanding of all the people involved.