

Public Health Madison and Dane County 7/1/15 Report

We are undertaking a strategic planning process that will help us direct our work into five areas: healthy beginnings; healthy eating and active living; healthy places; preventing injury and trauma; and organizational effectiveness. We are connecting this to our work in population health profiles. As the food security and healthy eating profiles become ready, I will share them with this group.