CHAPLAINCY

In 2016 the Iwrin D.And Robert A. Goodman Foundation awarded a grant to Jewish Social Services so that we could launch a highly-requested Jewish Chaplaincy program in Madison.The Chaplain serves as a spiritual resource for unaffiliated persons during challenging circumstances.

Our Mission

Jewish Social Services of Madison is a non-profit agency that provides compassionate social services and helps individuals and families access needed assistance. With a strong commitment to the Jewish community and inspired by the values of Jewish tradition, JSS serves people of all ages, religions and backgrounds.

JSS Senior Services

Jewish Social Services supports and empowers Dane County families and individuals who are struggling. While specializing in serving Jewish and immigrant communities, we serve anyone seeking services.

Feel free to contact us for information and referrals, short-term advocacy, or longer-term case management services.

We can help with:

- Assessment
- Financial Benefits (identify & apply)
- Medical and Mental Health Services
- Housing
- Information and referral to other supportive services

ELDER AND FAMILY SUPPORT

If you or a family member is facing difficulties while growing older, please call us. We can guide you through the complex web of social, emotional, medical and financial issues before you.

Our senior adult services professional is able to assess the situation, develop an individualized care plan, advise and support elders and family members, help arrange in-home care or out-of-home placement and coordinate services. We can even find assistance for an out-of-town loved one.

SOCIAL AND RECREATIONAL PROGRAMS

Jewish Social Services provides a designated nutrition site with our popular weekly Lechayim Lunchtime Plus program. From September through May, Lechayim offers an affordable kosher meal, yoga from a chair, and wonderful educational presentations and entertainment.

The JSS chaplain and volunteers bring Senior Shabbat gatherings to several retirement residences, featuring candle lighting, challah, wine, lots of music and singing and a Torah discussion. You do not need to be Jewish or live in the residence to attend.

Programming for Russian Seniors includes a Hanukkah party and affordable or complementary tickets to cultural events of special interest.

Look for additional educational and social activities throughout the year in our emailed newsletter and on our website!
