January 12, 2018

The first of two Plan Commission work sessions related to Phase 3 of the Comprehensive Plan Update will be held on Thursday, January 18. At this work session, staff will provide a summary of the community's feedback regarding prioritization of the Draft Strategies. Staff will also review various locations on the Draft Generalized Future Land Use Map where staff would like direction from the Plan Commission on the land use recommendation.

This packet contains four documents:

1. A summary of community feedback regarding prioritization of the Draft Strategies.
2. A spreadsheet with six potential changes to the Future Land Use Map. These changes were included in the initial (April 2017) Draft of the Future Land Use Map, but did not generate many (or any) public comments. Therefore, they were not highlighted for Plan Commission review during the summer 2017 Plan Commission work sessions. Staff wanted to bring these changes to the Plan Commission's attention for potential discussion.
3. A spreadsheet with 15 potential changes to the Future Land Use Map. These potential changes are the result of: 1) the recent adoption of Neighborhood Plans, and 2) continued staff discussion regarding the Map recommendations, and 3) recent comments from the community.
4. Reference materials related to the Generalized Future Land Use Map.

The Plan Commission work session on Tuesday, January 30 will focus on community feedback regarding prioritizing growth in Madison.
