1	locate the tower as far from current residential construction as possible to avoid current residents having to look at an eyesore on the landscape. New property owners/purchasers will be aware of the visual impact. Existing property owners had no knowledge of this project.	6/11/2016 10:44 AM
2	If it has to be placed here, place it closer to the City of Madison property. I know it is a case of let's put it nearer the town so it is not in our back yard. If that was not the thinking back in 2000 you are not being truthful. I know what the city was thinking. They wanted the property that is now the Pope Farm conservancy.	6/10/2016 10:59 AM
3	Also, make a neighborhood park on this site instead of just putting a tower on it by itself.	6/10/2016 9:52 AM
4	Go build it in Madsion proper! You are running our view and country aesthetics!	6/9/2016 8:10 AM
5	Site # 4 addresses the concerns of the two major stakeholders. Pope Farm Conservancy members prefer a location that does not obstruct the view for photographers. As the owner of the property to the south, a site that is closest to W. Old Sauk Rd. would be more desirable for the inevitable future residents of this area.	6/6/2016 5:01 PM

2	Want to see a park placed on the site with the water tower.	6/10/2016 9:53 AM
3	Stay out of the Town of Middleton!!!!	6/9/2016 9:47 AM
4	WHY are you building this huge tall monstrosity near our quite picturesque Town Of Middleton?	6/9/2016 8:11 AM
5	It was a surprise to learn a very tall water tower was going to impact the bucolic naturescape that we live in. We've lived in Cardinal Point for 12 years and feel this will not only negatively impact the quiet countryside, as progress always does, but will negatively impact our land values. We chose to live in Middleton, but the Madison sprawl is pushing all of us to rethink where we currently live. I'm not in favor of your site, but it seems we don't have much choice in the matter.	6/6/2016 9:24 PM
6	An enlarged park would make the site more usable and acceptable. Consideration of tower design by the Madison Water Utility is appreciated.	6/6/2016 5:14 PM
