

Tangent Security plan

In regards to our security. We operate with one "point" person, which would either be the GM, Floor manager, or Security manager. Everything involving Id's, Capacity, and guests flows through that person. If MPD, or Madison fire stop in they know who to talk to. The Security manager would be one of the 2-3 floor persons that would continually move throughout the restaurant and bar, and also be a conduit for the rest of the team members. The main door is where all the guests would enter. That entrance would have a door person trained on proper id checking and Queue management. The doors to our outside dining areas would each have a person dedicated to management of guests and capacities. There would be one additional person monitoring the restaurant floor, bathroom areas, and door to the lobby that would be locked from the outside at that time. All of the managers wear radios with earpieces, with additional radios behind the bar, server station, and kitchen expo for communication. We hold weekly manager meeting to discuss the prior events, and upcoming events. This is the time we make any adjustments to our policies on security, staffing, service, or flow.
