Greetings to the ALRC members and others concerned with the alcohol license application for Classy Glass Inc within the Frances Street Market:

Summary: CANA does not have concerns with the approval of this application due to the many safety measures management has taken into account for the selling of beer and canned wine on their premises. We recommend that the ALRC ensure that they follow through with their safety plan.

I am writing to you on behalf of the members of the Campus Area Neighborhood Association (CANA). Adrian's explanation of their management plan both via email and during his informational meeting hosted on April 9th, 2023 has alleviated most of our concerns about their ability to begin selling canned wine and beer (both canned and on tap) in the Frances Street Market.

Frances Street Market acts as both a restaurant and convenience store. Their restaurant has a total capacity of 27 people with an indoor dining room (7 seats) and an outdoor, fenced patio (20 seats) - monitored with cameras. They will serve alcohol only to those who will be dining in and have been seated given that they are 21 years old or older. The beer and wine sold will be in single-serve portions with food, and there will be no entertainment, advertising, or promotions to incentivize the consumption of alcohol. Additionally, customers have a limit of 3 alcoholic drinks per person, and alcoholic drinks will be sold "at a premium" to additionally reduce interest.

Adrian described multiple safety measures that will ensure a safe dining environment. All servers, staff, and bouncers are trained to recognize and manage intoxication and conflict resolution measures to maintain a safe environment. Additionally, servers and staff will have diversity and inclusion training to reduce conflicts. We urge ALRC members to ask about the specifics of these training sessions. Additionally, "Alcohol will only be served by employees who are 21+ and who have passed the Wisconsin Serve Safe Alcohol Training.

Overall, we believe that Frances Street Market plans on selling minimal alcohol and has solidified safety measures.

Best,
