Photos: Murals, murals, on the wall

Madison's buildings keep getting more colorful with the help of muralists like Sharon Kilfoy, Gilma Arenas, Lynn Lee and Brazilian artist Pannela Castro.

This slide show focuses on murals that went up in roughly the past year, from a mosaic at Centro Hispano to a new fence at Aldo Leopold Park that was dedicated just last month.

New murals are planned for the UW Humanities Building (on the third floor terrace, facing University Avenue) and the Madison Municipal Building.
