

Statement of Interest for the 16th District of Madison City Council Opening

Since 2013 I have been an active resident of the 16th District of Madison. During this time, I have had the opportunity to work with Alder DeMarb on a couple of different issues. That involvement led me to start the Liberty Place Neighborhood Association and become a more active member in my community.

My passion has always been to be a servant to the community. From my work in Washington DC on Capitol Hill and my work in our own State Capitol to working in public schools with some of our most disenfranchised youth. My passion has been to serve my community and fight for a more equitable and safe place for all families to live and grow.

It would be an honor to take my experience at the state and federal government along with my passion for the youth of Madison and serve the 16th District. The inequities in the City of Madison are a problem. I see the data and the headlines that put our most disenfranchised communities in the frontlines of the historical inequities Madison has endured. To work on this council would allow me to be not just be an ally to these families but to be a comrade and a coconspirator in the fight for racial and social justice.

My intent would be to serve the term and run again in 2019. During my time on the council I would hope to serve on the subcommittees involving education and community engagement. There are teams like the Owl Creek NRT that are doing great work all over Madison. I would support and help to improve the work these teams are doing to better our underserved communities. The black and latin(x) unemployment rate in Madison is vastly lower than that of its white counterparts. I would like to help build relationships with businesses and other community agencies to close the opportunity gap that plagues Madison. The center of my work would be around family engagement and providing better opportunities for all families in the 16th District.
