

Supervisor's Monthly Report for February
Mall Concourse

January was definitely a warmer month, and less snow. Sidewalk sweeping started up again, cleaning up winter debris. With the weather turning colder near the end of the month, snow removal picked up and the crew received plenty of ice removal experience. We continue to work on our salting procedures downtown, and are trying to have less salt thrown towards the historic sandstone foundations.

During warmer periods, the crew was able to wash light poles, benches, and other furnishings in the service area. Bus shelter windows were also given a thorough cleaning.

The crew was busy cleaning up the protest event also in January. However, the traditional Winterfest event in February has been moved from Downtown to Elver Park this year. With colder temperatures forecasted, the crew will most likely continue with snow removal through the month of February.
