Kevin -

The Marquette Neighborhood Association (MNA) board met with John Martens concerning the proposed conditional use for 809 Williamson Street at our September board meeting. The revised plans were presented and representatives of the Underground Food Collective were also on hand to answer questions from the board and neighbors.

The board voted unanimously to support the revised plan that the Plan Commission has before it on October 15, 2012. We ask that the conditional use be tied to the current ownership of the business and that the outdoor seating area close at 10:00 p.m.

Sincerely,

Scott B. Thornton, President

RE: Underground Food Collective application for conditional use permit at 807-809 Williamson Street, Madison

Honorable Commissioners:

I wish to state my opposition to granting Underground Food Collective (UFC) a condition use permit at 807-809 Williamson Street for purposes of establishing one or more outdoor patios immediately adjacent to residential property. Such patio(s) are intended as seating area for patrons of UFC's planned restaurant.

I oppose the patio(s) regardless of hours of use or structural features.

Business features such as restaurant patios are patently inconsistent with adjacent, long-established residential use. They degrade the quality of the residential properties with a serious intrusion on privacy, loss of noise control and loss of general comfort of the residents. To paraphrase a neighborhood resident, it would be hard to imagine living next to a neighbor who invited 38 people to eat/drink/talk in their back yard every night during the summer.

Approval of conditional uses such as this only serve to degrade residential property. Owner occupants and most tenants have no use for private yards they can not enjoy. Nor, for noise that is likely to sometimes be audible within the neighboring homes. Some business traits, such as this patio, are simply not consistent with adjacent residential use.

Residential property values are high here. And, owners pay a premium for the historically sympathetic repairs they are compelled to make to their Third Lake Historic District homes. When those homes fail to live up to the expectations reasonable owners have for high assessments and location in a historic district, then both owners occupants and quality tenants will move elsewhere.

It's time to make some planning decisions about Jenifer Street. Please either remove it from the Historic District, lower the residential assessments and write it off as a casualty to the perceived need to support continued growth of Williamson Street business at any cost, or support Jenifer Street as quality residential street. One that is most certainly needed to maintain the adjacent businesses' appeal to their increasingly upscale clientele. And, also needed as a buffer to the inner residential streets of the Marquette neighborhood.

Thank you.

Sincerely,
Lynn Rusch
