

In reference to: Legislative file 21856, Class B Combination license for My Buddies LLC, Agent Dale Wells, 4325 Lien Rd Madison WI 53704

I would like to take a moment to express my personal opinion in regards to the hassle that Dale Wells is going through in order to begin his new business with My Buddies Bar. From what I understand, he is unable to continue his business journey due to past criminal issues regarding the people he would like to employ.

I have known Dale for about 13 years and in all of that time I have never questioned his work ethic, nor his ability to make wise decisions on important matters. He is far more than capable of managing a group of people that have given proof of their own business capabilities. The questions related to this matter have been from the PAST by several years. Unfortunately I do not know Joe, but I can say that Jason Wells has made mistakes in the past and has payed the consequences from those mistakes, learned from them, and moved on. He is a very intelligent person with the social and business skills that would make My Buddies Bar a great success. I believe these qualities are extremely important to have today's world (more now than ever.) and Madison should be lucky to have these men take risks towards adding a respected, money making business in their city.

I am unsure of the technical process in deciding who should and should not be looked at twice regarding their history, but if this was the case for every situation there would great losses to our state as well as our nation. I do not feel that giving examples of the successful businessmen/women is the point here, but it is that Dale Wells should be able to follow through with his business plans and not be judged on his potential employees past mistakes.

Best Regards,

Jenny Schmidt
