Dear Transportation Commission,

Of the options proposed for the reconstruction of Pflaum Road, option 3 is the only one that includes a fully separated off-street path. I support including this path, especially since it's near a school.

However, this option also includes a section with 13 foot wide travel lanes for cars. The other sections each include at least one 12 foot wide lane. Given that we have a goal of reducing travel speed and that we know that wide lanes encourage high speeds while narrow lanes encourage slower speeds, I don't understand why we would rebuild Pflaum Road with 13 foot wide lanes.

I hope that you'll recommend a modified version of option 3, with 10 foot wide travel lanes the entire length.

Thanks,
Matt Gawlik
