Re: Madison Saddlery Company National Register of Historic Places nomination
313-317 E Wilson Street

The City of Madison Landmarks Commission was pleased to review the nomination to list the Madison Saddlery Company in the National Register of Historic Places at its 18 April 2022 meeting and would like to enthusiastically support this nomination.

The submittal makes a successful case that the Madison Saddlery Company is eligible for listing in the Wisconsin State Register and the National Register by being significant under Criterion C for its architecture as a turn of the century industrial loft type building in the Romanesque and Commercial styles as designed by architect Alvan Small, with a 1907 period of significance. This building is a significant part of our downtown cityscape and we celebrate its preservation and adaptive reuse.

Thank you for the opportunity to provide comments.

Sincerely,

Katherine Kaliszewski
Vice Chair, City of Madison Landmarks Commission
