Subject: Youth Leadership shifts the initiative as YAB steps into power

Dear Dane County Community Members:

We are the Dane County Youth Action Board (YAB) and we are the group responsible for leading Madison/Dane County through the Youth Homelessness Demonstration Program, by providing live-expertise, youth leadership, and authentic youth collaboration. The Youth Homelessness Demonstration Program is a HUD initiative intended to demonstrate that ending youth homelessness is made possible by empowering young people who have lived the experience of homelessness into leadership roles. We are incredibly thankful for the support and partnership from our community in this process.

We are working collectively to show other youth and young adults in our community that they, too, can be strong advocates and change makers in our community. We participated in the writing and applying for the YHDP grant, successfully bringing this HUD initiative and funding opportunity to our community. We were also recently successful in advocating for ourselves to make sure that we are compensated for our time and lived experiences as employees, and that those with lived expertise who participated in our listening sessions also received compensation for their expertise and input. This is something rare that many Youth Action Boards across the country are not successful in accomplishing. Now we are advocating for the youth and young adults in our community by requesting a partnership with the City of Madison, our Continuum of Care lead agency (CoC), that will allow us to have a more innovative, collaborative and equitable approach to ending youth homelessness in Dane County. This partnership would look like the City of Madison becoming the YHDP lead planning agency, managing the grant funds and supporting the projects that will be funded to support the end of youth and young adult homelessness. With the support of the Homeless Services Consortium Board, the City of Madison, and community leaders we can ensure there are equitable and collaborative practices in supporting youth and young adult leaders across the Dane
