About Madison Community Policing Foundation

The Madison Community Policing Foundation (MCPF) is a non-profit organization established in 2016 by a small group of retired Madison police officers. In our Articles of Incorporation we state:

“The MCPF corporation is organized exclusively as an organization for supporting the community policing mission of public police departments, with particular emphasis in supporting the community policing mission of the Madison Wisconsin Police Department, but limited to such activities permitted under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended.”

There are several private, non-profit organizations which exist to support the missions of public agencies. Locally, the Madison Parks Foundation, the Madison Public Library Foundation and the Foundation for Madison Public Schools are examples of private, non-profit organizations that exist to raise additional funds and revenue for these critically important public agencies.

With respect to public police departments, many communities across the United States have private, non-profit organizations, usually started by business leaders, which exist to support their respective police agencies. Locally, Capital K9s, Inc. and Madison Mounted, Inc. are examples of two private, non-profit organizations who provide financial assistance to the Madison Police Department’s K9 and Mounted Horse Patrol Units.

Initiatives

MCPF routinely receives requests for financial assistance from police officers working with local law enforcement agencies to support community policing activities. To date, most MCPF funding requests have been received from and approved for police officers from the City of Madison Police Department.

Examples of MCPF projects funded to date include:

- Funding for purchase of a 20ft x 20ft inflatable movie screen for neighborhood movie nights organized by police officers assigned to neighborhoods.
- Funding for numerous community picnics and dinners organized by police officers which bring police and community together.
- Funding for MPD’s 911 Explorer Post to support their July 2016 participation in a national completion held in Yuma, AZ.
- Funding for video equipment to enhance MPD’s ability to capture and share community engagement and outreach efforts.

In the future as funding allows, MCPF would like to support the MPD’s “Honor Guard Unit,” community policing related training initiatives and the Wisconsin Professional Police Association Youth Scholarship program (www.wppa.com/resources/scholarshipprogram/).
