To the Chair and Members of the Transportation Commission,

I am writing as a friend of Nadya and Sasha Rosen. I work closely with Nadya at Disability Rights WI. I have had the privilege of hearing Nadya speak almost daily of all the wonders of Sasha- his college search, love of skiing and music, work as a camp counselor, the video games he was into at the moment and his favorite foods. I cannot imagine what these conversations will become now, but no doubt her commitment to address pedestrian safety as a legacy to her son and late wife will be included.

Sasha's death is a tragedy and also completely preventable. Increased investment in traffic signals and addressing speeding i, but I ssues on Park St. and across our community can make sure this never happens again to another family. As a leader, I'm asking you today for visible and impactful advocacy in the fight for safer streets.

Respectfully,

Jill Jacklitz she/her
