Hello, My name is Alex Mathews. I'm an employee at the vintage brewing company and am under the management of Krissy F. Since starting here I've spent a lot of time working with her. She's someone who has always been straight forward about her past and the progress she has made since. Krissy is someone who always brings out the best in people. She is the person all of us can depend on to help us get though the most stressful of situations and always keep a clear head. Upon taking on the promotion to management she has shown the upmost level of professionalism. This is someone who I truly know will always make the best choice for themself and everyone around them as well.
