#	RESPONSES	DATE
1	I like the mother/child depiction	5/3/2024 1:59 PM
2	represents family	5/3/2024 1:34 PM
3	N/A	5/2/2024 12:25 AM
4	It represents mothers being mothers to their children which our community needs, not young boys standing as men for their mothers, or women being heads/leaders of our community that should be lead jointly by all men, women and children, if we were to go that route.	5/1/2024 11:08 PM
5	I feel like this bronze sculpture connects to me. It feels warm and emotional.	5/1/2024 6:16 PM
6	It separates togetherness!! It's a solid great message.	5/1/2024 6:07 PM
7	I like the adult child combo	5/1/2024 5:46 PM
8	The Mother is holding her child and appears more comforting & loving.	5/1/2024 7:32 AM
9	I actually don't like any of them, but design 1 is kind of freaky and fun. It looks like an outtake from a 70s blaxploitation movie.	4/25/2024 5:02 PM
10	It's a design that is evocative of the classic Madonna and child motif. It conveys a sense of dignity and divinity to black women, black motherhood and young black boys. This image lays bare the juxtaposition of serenity and foreboding. Serenity in that it depicts the beautiful, calm and special connection between a mother and her infant son and foreboding that harkens images of two of the society's most vulnerable populations. They are the most vulnerable to violence of the interpersonal, societal and institutional kind. This image forces the viewer to engage with their humanity. As they sit, together, in this vulnerable moment, will we protect them?	4/24/2024 5:01 PM
11	It portrays the spirit of empowering our youth to take on the world with confidence. Darbo-Worthington is a neighborhood of resilience and community so I think this option is most appropriate. The others were more about motherhood and nurturing, which is fine for the West Side of Madison.	4/24/2024 9:55 AM
12	I love the connection between mother and child	4/23/2024 7:06 PM
13	Seated figures -- shows repose, some sadness and tender love .	4/21/2024 7:10 AM
14	The nurturing factor and the elegance	4/18/2024 11:40 AM
15	Aesthetically, I think the mother and child work well together as a sculpture.	4/17/2024 2:27 PM
16	Design 3 feels more unified than the others and expresses warmth, compassion, and community to me more than the others do.	4/17/2024 12:26 PM
17	It includes two full figures, one female, one male.	4/16/2024 12:02 AM
18	Just appeals to me a little more	4/15/2024 7:25 PM
19	I love the child. The representation of the chest is great.	4/9/2024 4:12 PM
20	The design depicts homeliness, nurturing, mother's love, protection and family. I love this one because it reflects the culture of the neighborhood.	4/8/2024 3:07 PM
21	I like this one because it shows a mom and child which is representative of who is in Darbo. I like that the mom is embracing the baby, the expression on the mom's face, the base is more natural looking, and the baby is looking up to the mom. I really like the older child in the second option (and children that age are who is mostly playing in the park, but I don't like how the mom isn't touching the boy and she looks tired sad), would it be possible to add the older child in behind the mom and baby?	4/8/2024 12:13 PM

Austen Brantley Public Art Survey

22	It shows love and comfort	4/5/2024 12:03 PM
23	It's the most visually interesting	4/4/2024 2:15 PM
24	It's the most peaceful	4/4/2024 11:47 AM
25	it imbues love, safety, and caring. It is an iconic recognizable form throughout the ages, We all come from Mother. A mother and child invokes a sense of tenderness, respect, love, protection, growth, nurturing. Wonderful messages for any neighborhood, for all citizens.	4/4/2024 11:45 AM
26	Family component and dynamic poses	4/3/2024 4:45 PM
27	Contemporary theme.	3/28/2024 10:53 AM

3	None	4/24/2024 9:55 AM

5	Maybe add a one sentence statement that goes around the statute	4/18/2024 11:49 AM
6	I think the location is weird. People don't appreciate sculptures from cars. At least not ones of this size. Why not put it by the stark weather creek bike path?	4/9/2024 4:14 PM
7	Where is the sculpture going to be located? A group of nonprofits are working to develop a community building in the neighborhood to be called the Darbo Dream Center. Has the sculptor connected with the group?	4/8/2024 3:10 PM
