Hello,

I live in the Greenbush neighborhood and have concerns about proposed Building at the Ideal Body shop site.

My biggest concern regarding this proposal is the height. I attended the first Greenbush meeting where Galina presented their plan and at that time we expressed that the height was too high for this neighborhood. 5 stories is quite imposing as I know, living near St Mary's. At that meeting there was the suggestion of stepping it down as it went west into the neighborhood. As I saw in latest drawings, this did not happen.

I believe it is important to create more housing in Greenbush and some multi story is acceptable but limiting the height is essential.

Please put serious weight on this and the other concerns that the neighbors are expressing. The people of Greenbush work hard to make this feel like a neighborly neighborhood.
