Subject: Re: Plan Commission Monday May, 9th QUESTION

Thank you, Ken, for the information. We really appreciate it. We were also concerned that this was not publicized in a way that those going to the restaurant or walking by in the neighborhood would never have known about it, if our neighbor on Corscot had not questioned the high sign on the second floor of the restaurant and informed me.

See you!

If you get it to him tomorrow it will go out to us in our packets. Members of the Plan Commission read our material over the weekend, and frankly, we have more time to pay attention to submissions than we do to items placed before us on Monday night.

I had seen a public notice on a window on their second floor out of sight from the public. I no longer see it today, Wednesday, May 4th. I tried to find out if the item is on the agenda for Monday, but I can not find an agenda online.

We have no problem with the outdoor seating, but see NO reason that such an antiquated LOUD obnoxious PA system should be allowed. Hand held vibrating systems are common and simple and people can wonder while waiting for a table.
