Hello, this is Elliot LeBrun, I spoke at the Common Council meeting last week.

I'm sorry, I wanted to go to the meeting tonight to explain myself, but I can't make it. I just tested positive for covid, and I can't make it through a long virtual meeting as I can't stay awaketa.

Long story short:

I talked to the prospective owner, my neighbors, and our alder Latimer Burris last week, and Lakhbir has convinced us that he is the right person to turn the property around, and he can't make it work without the liquor license.

I'm left with the understanding that this property can become a respectable business, but business-as-usual simply is not working.

I looked at a couple other properties that he runs around town, and it gives me reason to hope that this constant thorn in my side may one day become a place I feel comfortable patronizing. The car wash up the road on East Washington is a good example.

Again, I'm terribly sorry, but I am in no shape to attend a meeting.

Please feel free to call or email with any questions.
