WE OPEN DOORS BEFORE THEY ARE SLAMMED SHUT!

For we can do nothing substantial toward changing our course on the planet, a destructive one, without rousing ourselves, individual by individual, and bringing our small imperfect stones to the pile.

Alice Walker, Anything We Love Can Be Saved

Dear Potential Sponsor,

There are approximately 70 million people under the age of 18 in the United States, an increase in the millions from the 90's. With juveniles comprising such a significant portion of the nation's population, juvenile crime and victimization issues require considerable resources and attention from our justice, educational, and other social support systems. Overall, juvenile crime and victimization rates have decreased recently. Even school related crimes, which lately have received so much media attention, were substantially lower in numbers in recent years.

Our goal in the Wisconsin Juvenile Detention Association (WJDA) is to provide national leadership, coordination, and resources to prevent and respond to juvenile delinquency and victimization. WJDA accomplishes this by supporting states and local communities in their efforts to develop and implement effective and coordinated prevention and intervention programs and to improve the juvenile justice system. Also to protect the public safety, hold offenders accountable and provide treatment and rehabilitative services tailored to the needs of each individual juvenile. These programs are also highly successful in warding off future offenses.

In 2014, the WJDA will host its 19th annual conference. Our purpose in planning this conference is to provide professional development and education in the form of additional training, seminars and workshops to those individuals who deal directly with juveniles detained for suspected criminal activities.

The Wisconsin Juvenile Detention Association was established for the following purposes:

- To identify, strengthen and promote sound juvenile detention center practices.
- To review and evaluate proposed and existing standards for juvenile detention and treatment.

- To develop personnel standards which enhance the professionalism and effectiveness of those involved in juvenile detention occupations

Our conference last year was very successful and we expect this year's conference to be even more successful.

We would like to provide an opportunity for your company to show your support for our worthwhile organization. Monetary donations, gift cards, or raffle items would all be greatly appreciated and would contribute to the success of our conference. Along with your sponsorship, we will recognize your contribution through displays at prominent points during the conference as well as during general meetings. The WJDA will also recognize your support through our newsletter. The WJDA is not-for-profit, tax-exempt 501(c)(3) corporation and any gift or contribution is tax deductible.

I have learned that whenever a community is threatened, all are affected. Whenever a single human being is humiliated, the human image is cheapened. Whenever a person suffers for whatever the reason and no one is there to offer a hand, a smile, a present, a gift, a memory, a smile again. What happens, something is wrong with society at large.

Elie Wiesel, Nobel Peace Prize 1986

This conference has incredible potential for providing a wonderful community service as well as further training and development for a workforce, which handles over 25,000 juveniles per year. We appreciate any support you would be willing to offer in this endeavor.

Sincerely,

Jason Eiler
