Kiva

Kiva is an international non-profit based in San Francisco, CA and founded in 2005.

Kiva provides microloans to entrepreneurs around the world that need a small amount of capital to support their business. Loans are crowdfunded on www.kiva.org by a network of over 1.8 million individuals who believe in helping entrepreneurs access capital.

Loans that change lives

Kiva capital

- Kiva loan capital is crowdfunded online from a global community of individuals who want to:
 - decrease economic inequality,
 - support small businesses, and/or
 - maximize the impact of their dollars through “loan recycling!”
- Each week, Kiva lenders contribute about $3,000,000 to entrepreneurs around the world. The vast majority of that money is “recycled” from loans repaid by other business owners.

Social underwriting

Kiva aspires to create economic opportunity for entrepreneurs that are unlikely to be approved for capital from mainstream lenders. To do this, they must find new criteria to evaluate “creditworthiness.”

Traditional criteria

- Time in business
- Credit score
- Debt to income ratio
- Revenue

Social capital

- Social media following
- Kiva lending activity
- Strength of Kiva profile
- Trustee endorsement*
- Private Fundraising*

Social underwriting: Trustees

Trustees publicly "endorse" entrepreneurs in their network for the Kiva program.

Trustee endorsements add credibility to a borrower.

Endorsements are optional, but strengthen an application and profile.

Trustees are not legally or financially liable for the borrowers they endorse.

Social underwriting: Private Fundraising Period

Kiva requires US business owners to bring an assigned number of lenders to their loan during the Private Fundraising Period. Only then will Kiva lenders be able to find the loan on the website.

- Demonstrates good “credit” within their personal and/or business networks
