

Dane County Food Council November 5, 2014 Report

More than 100 people attended the Dane County Food Summit on Oct. 24th at the Lussier Heritage Center. The Summit focused on locally-achievable change, partnerships, and innovations within Dane County for building a fair and sustainable food system, as well as examining how we can build equity and justice into all that we do. A summary of the Summit will be provided in the near future to both the City and County Food Council members.
