Parents as First Teachers Partnership

- A couple years ago library staff met with PH staff to discuss ideas for sharing resources and partnering
- “Parents as First Teachers” became our pilot project – working with the Nurse/Family and Prenatal Care Coordination programs
- The Madison Public Library is collaborating with Public Health of Madison & Dane County to provide early literacy training to staff - and literacy materials and tools for families receiving services from public health
- The program has recently expanded to partner with the Northside Early Childhood Zone

Madison Mural Alley

Better Together

This mural was designed and painted by the Brazilian (Brooklyn based) artist team of Zimbardi & Calomino along with Brazilian (Madison based) artist, Henrique Nardi. Nardi worked with teens at the Dane County Juvenile Detention Center

Squeeze the Life Outta Lemons

This mural was designed by Detroit based artist Amos Paul Kennedy and painted by a huge number of volunteers and Bubbler staff along with artist Andy Villanueva, taking a lead role on the painting. The text all comes from multiple Teen Bubbler workshops

Hawthorne Pocket Gardens

- Community GroundWorks will work in collaboration with the Worthington Park Neighborhood Association to support residents vision to develop, establish and sustain a community garden adjacent to the Salvation Army building.
- We're partnering with Community Groundworks of Madison to offer Pocket Gardens where those without gardens can raise vegetables.
- Participants can apply to get a raised garden bed behind the library for the summer of 2019.
