Dear Members of the Transportation Commission:

We appreciate your work – your leadership really – over the past couple years to embed equity and inclusion into the culture and operations of your body.

As you are aware, Neighborhood Resource Teams (NRTs) are one of the City of Madison’s primary approaches to racial equity in the community. We have nine different teams that strive to promote racial equity and improve quality of life for Madison residents by understanding and elevating the needs, issues, and priorities of people living in areas with NRTs.

The Owl Creek area is included in one of the NRTs. Ever since developing the Owl Creek Park several years ago now, we have continued to see high speed traffic come off of Crested Owl Lane and Valor Way as they transition into Great Gray Drive. This has been a continued concern for residents that we have heard over the years.

On behalf of the Owl Creek NRT, we very much hope you will address this safety issue with the proposed traffic calming strategies.

Thank you.
S. Tariq Saqqaf
NRT Coordinator
