Possible Quorum of Police and Fire Commission at Local Voices Network Virtual Community Conversations

Local Voices Network will host small facilitated group conversations to discuss the role that police can or should play in our community. These conversations will be recorded and used as a way to collect public input into what we should be looking for in a new Police Chief. These recordings will be transcribed, indexed and shared with journalists, public officials, and the public via the lvn.org webpage.

The PFC may have one or more commissioners present for each conversation in a listening role.
