You gotta be kidding me. So now you guys and gals are considering filing a lawsuit against a company, instead of prosecuting the lawless group of people who are stealing cars??? Blaming a company, instead of focusing on where the solution should be placed? i.e. prosecuting the people stealing vehicles, instead of having a revolving door, where they just turn around and do it again. This is one of the reasons Mike Koval resigned and it's still going on. DROP the idea of a lawsuit and focus on REAL issues that need to be addressed in Madison!!!

Please vote NO on suing Kia and Hyundai! They are not causing a public nuisance - the CRIMINALS in this city are causing the nuisance. Stop shifting blame from where it actually lies.

Please "show the work" regarding how suing car manufacturers will lower the crime rate in Madison. Lets see the quantitative data.

Please stop the endless pampering of criminals by insinuating they are not to blame for crime and then literally telling them out loud that they are not responsible for the cars they steal. Every person who has stolen a Kia or Hyundai is 100% INDIVIDUALLY and PERSONALLY RESPONSIBLE!!! Not the car manufacturers. Get to the root of the crime issue and stop addressing the symptoms.

Have you considered that maybe someone will sue the City of Madison for making economic conditions so dire and inequitable that people are forced to steal cars? If you think this sentence is ridiculous, then so is filing suit against car manufacturers.

Stop the madness now. Hold criminals accountable. I'm embarrassed to live in a city that even considers an option like this.

How dysfunctional upside down can the thought process be? Holding KIA and Hyundai responsible for car thefts? Try holding the thugs who are terrorizing Madison and surrounding areas responsible who are committing these crimes - and try charging, holding and sentencing them. Get them off the streets and there will be no more stealing of cars. Whoever put this out there, has embarrassed themselves and anyone who would even put this as a consideration.
