We've re-discovered our rhythm. The curtain fell on the 2022/23 season to resounding applause. As our first complete and uninterrupted season in four years, we happily witnessed audiences return – in full – with a renewed interest in and enthusiasm for live performances.

We opened our doors with great excitement and anticipation. We extended welcoming arms, and our communities enjoyed more than half a million extraordinary experiences. The work we did to rebuild our teams last year paid off in a big way. We've become even more focused on the people who matter most – our employees and patrons. Thanks to the entire team's efforts, our spaces became even more inviting.

Overture's dedication to championing diversity, equity and inclusion (DEI) has continued grounding everything we do in racial and social justice. We equipped nearly 1000 employees and community partners with meaningful, DEI training sessions, ensuring this commitment resonates throughout our organization and beyond.

The story we share in our 2022/23 community report is one of endurance, each example a testament to our strength and commitment to our core objectives: financial stability, operational excellence, programming excellence and an engaged workforce.

Yet, as always, the cornerstone of our success is the steadfast support of our community. The Overture stage is set, ready to celebrate the visual and performing arts in and around Madison—igniting our creativity, fueling our economy and enriching our quality of life.

MISSION

To support and elevate our community's creative culture, economy and quality of life through the arts.

VISION

Creating extraordinary experiences through the arts.

ANNUAL ECONOMIC IMPACT

Released in May 2023, an economic and fiscal impact analysis by the University of Wisconsin-Whitewater Fiscal and Economic Research Center reported that Overture Center contributed $34,480,000 to the Madison economy during its 2021/22 season (September 2021-June 2022).
