Standards for Variance

The Zoning Board of Appeals will only grant a variance if it finds that your proposal meets the following standards. Please explain how your variance request meets these standards.

1. There are conditions unique to the property of the applicant that do not apply generally to other properties in the district.

The property has an existing attached garage. The rear portion is original to the 1927 house. The front portion was constructed pursuant to a variance in 1981. The house, trees, and landscaping on the property are designed to accommodate an attached garage in the same general location as existing.

2. The variance is not contrary to the spirit, purpose, and intent of the regulations in the zoning district and is not contrary to the public interest.

The rebuilt garage will be a narrow, one-story structure. Like the existing garage, it will be adjacent to the neighbors' paved driveway, maintaining a buffer between structures on the two properties.

3. For an area (setbacks, etc.) variance, compliance with the strict letter of the ordinance would unreasonably prevent use of the property for a permitted purpose or would render compliance with the ordinance unnecessarily burdensome.

Strict compliance with the six-foot side setback requirement would require a garage rebuilt in the same general location to be so narrow as to be unusable for storing a very small car. The proposed garage will remain a relatively narrow, one-story garage and fit the neighborhood.

The elected difficulty or hardship is greated by the terms of the ordinance rather than by a narrow who

4. The alleged difficulty or hardship is created by the terms of the ordinance rather than by a person who has a present interest in the property.

The hardship is caused by the six-foot setback requirement. Moving the garage to a detached location would reason necessitate. remodeling the side of the house, which was constructed with an attached garage in 1927. 5. The proposed variance shall not create substantial detriment to adjacent property.

Because of the relatively minor changes proposed, the neighbors will experience relatively little change. An attached garage has existed in this location since 1927, with no known detriments to neighbors. The slight increase in width will not alter the neighbors' view or light significantly.

6. The proposed variance shall be compatible with the character of the immediate neighborhood.

The proposed garage will be similar to the existing garage, except that it will be constructed with higher quality materials and better match the aesthetics of the house and neighborhood. It will be similar to numerous other small, attached garages in 11/22 the immediate neighborhood.
