the Mason Lounge Business Plan

Location: 416 S. Park St. (formerly Azzalino's Bar & Grill)

Madison, WI 53715

Legal Name: the Mason Lounge, LLC

Operation Type: Bar & Restaurant

Form: Sole Proprietor LLC, 100% ownership by applicant

Status: Start-Up

Facility: approx. 1200 sq.ft. of Customer Seating

License Applied For: Class B Combination (beer and liquor)

Mission Statement: 'The Mason' aspires, in short order, to become:

- -a friendly neighborhood bar specializing, largely, in beer and wine with "small-plate" food offerings to complement...
- -a place for friends to routinely gather for conversation... and a shared appreciation of all things of "good taste" (e.g. micro-beer, wine, food, music, and art)...
- -an establishment considered a valuable asset by neighbors for its creative services and its commitment to a sense of community.

The Space-

Physically, the lounge will feature approx. 15 barstools at the bar. The remainder of guest seating will be made up of a mix of small dining tables, pub tables (taller), and arrangements of sofas and lounge chairs around "coffee" & "end" tables. The furniture will be an eclectic assortment of second-hand pieces. The lighting will be relatively dim and be provided by a myriad of low-watt lamps and candles. The walls will be adorned with conversation-starting artwork and wine/micro-beer memorabilia. Music will be dispensed by the bartender using the soon-to-be-touted "house" itunes library.

Products & Services-

The bar is set up to feature 19 tap beers (an impressive array by most standards). The tap list will be filled in with the best spread of ales that can be assembled... light, dark, local, imported, hoppy, malty, well-known, obscureserved in a "mason" jar, naturally. An extensive bottle list (approx. 20) will complement these offerings (all of which have been tasted and endorsed by the proprietor).

Wine will be available by the glass or as a "flight" (a group of smaller pours, for tasting). Customers can create their own flight by picking four wines from the list. The wine list will rotate routinely (and, again, has been personally assembled by the proprietor). Staff shall be knowledgeable of all products. No wine-snobs allowed.

A modest selection of port, small-batch whiskey (including scotch and bourbon), and fresh-pressed citrus juice cocktails (served in a martini glass) will be offered as well.

The food menu will primarily consist of snacks, appetizers, and desserts. The goal here is to offer food that is:

- -quick & easy to prepare for a single server.
- -non-perishable to minimize waste.
- -complementary to the craft-beverages served.
- -refreshingly different (and hopefully, healthier) than the average "bar-menu".

Summary of "the Concept"- (and why it will provide a unique service)

The Mason is a place you return to for the overall experience. It welcomes you in with its cozy & creative decor. It is a beer & wine connoisseur's paradise. It appeals to people who appreciate some of the finer things in life without any of the formality or pretense that can occasionally accompany them.

Besides being known for its impressive beer & wine lists... the Mason is known for its positive "vibe" created by the friendly staff and patrons. It is known for its eclectic "juke box". It is known for its "outside-the-box" thinking (no burgers/ fries, no TVs). And, it is known for its clean bathrooms...;)

The Market-

While anyone is welcome (needless to say), it is certainly necessary (for purposes of drafting a business plan) to characterize your target market in general terms. The Mason has designs on appealing to a core age range of 24-40. The location should be perfectly suited to draw from a large base of graduate students, hospital employees (walking distance from Meriter & St. Mary's), young professionals in the Vilas neighborhood, and people on the way to the Kohl Center (or anywhere else downtown) for an event. Some precocious undergrads will make the walk down... but, I know when I was their age, I didn't have the taste for (or the budget to support) micro-beers and wine.

Anyone who is reading this is likely aware that the previous establishment at this location had, on occasion, fallen out of favor with the local neighbors and law enforcement. Not knowing the details first hand, I am in no position to speculate on the "issues" the bar was having. But, to those most interested in making sure this location is reborn as a reputable, up-standing place of business... I offer these points:

- -I, the prospective owner/operator, am a genuinely nice guy. I have a labrador retriever named Clark. I believe in karma. I believe in hard work. I believe in being charitable. I believe in being "green". I believe in moderation.
- -The hours of operation (opening in the afternoon & closing before the mandated "bar-time") will help reduce the potential for any of the negative social "by-products" associated with alcohol.
- -The beer/wine bar concept (void of TVs and bar games) caters to a (hopefully) more moderate, socially-conscious drinker. Plus, every beverage served is meant to be enjoyed by the sip. No Jagermeister shots here....

Marketing-

Once the business is established, I anticipate needing no further advertising beyond good, old-fashioned "word of mouth". Seriously. A place of this size (relatively small) that has distinguished itself from other comparable establishments should have no problems gaining a faithful customer base. Getting the word out there in the beginning will be paramount. I will "canvas" the local hospitals (and immediate neighborhood) pretty hard with flyers to get the ball rolling.

On a side note, there is a distinct possibility that "theme nights" could evolve according to customer feedback. Blues (music [not live]) Tuesdays... Wine Tasting Wednesdays?...

Hours of Operation-

Tuesday 3:30pm - 11:30pm
Wednesday 3:30pm - 11:30pm
Thursday 3:30pm - midnight
Friday 3:30pm - 1am
Saturday 3:30pm - 1am
Sunday closed
Monday closed

Opening-

If all things proceed as planned the doors should be open for business by Christmas. The month prior will have been spent designing/outfitting the space, fine-tuning operations and bringing in stock.

Financial Plan-

Funds for the purchase of the business and start-up costs have been obtained as a $60,000 low-interest-rate equity line of credit from Wells Fargo.

Projected Expenses (mo	nthly)-	Projected Sales (daily)-
Rent	1600	Beer $510 (127 pints)
Utilities	800	Wine $90 (15.5 glasses)
Beer	2056
Wine	542	$600 = daily sales
Bartender	1600
Credit Card	125	142.5 drinks served daily
Insurance/Licensing	223	=
Maintenance/Repair	332	71.25 customers x 2 drinks each
Workman's Comp.	142	=
CO2	100	8 customers per hour
Telephone/Internet	75
Snow Removal	50
Barware/Kitchenware	40
Cleaning/Office Supply	140
Bank/Accounting	120
total expenses:	$7,945	12,000 = monthly sales

12,000 - 7,945 = $4,055 (monthly pre-tax net profit)

note: the above sales projections intentionally do not include food sales. not because there won't be any (there will be!), but because I think they are difficult to project at this point and because I wanted to create a conservative estimate of cash-flow, putting the "burden of proof" (of potential profits) on the beverage sales. food sales only help the equation.

Relevant Work Experience-

- -I worked at a retail "bottle shop" (that sold beer, wine & liquor) for two and-a-half years here in Madison in the late 90s. I ordered/stocked inventory and generally gained an appreciation for the fermentation "sciences" (or "arts", depending on your perspective).
- -In Portland, OR, I worked at a winery for five years (from 2000-05). There, I worked in the cellar (helping make wine) part-time and managed the "tasting room" part-time. Providing wine education for the staff was one of my duties as well as providing the customer service inherent to hosting guests in a tasting room.
