

Status Quo

Essentially, infrastructure decisions are made by engineers, not planners, and it is no one's job to think about the entire transportation system.

Proposal

Creates a "Department of Transportation" but doesn't change the lines of reporting, doesn't change who's planning projects, and it's still no one's job to think about the whole system.

