June 27, 2018

It is anticipated that the Plan Commission will review the remaining Comprehensive Plan discussion items at its July 2, 2018 meeting.

These items include:

- Potential changes to the Comprehensive Plan document. All the proposed changes to the May 1, 2018 draft of the Comprehensive Plan document have been consolidated into one spreadsheet. There are nine remaining Plan Commission discussion items. These are highlighted in yellow and located at the top of the document. Proposed changes that the Plan Commission recommends are listed next, followed by proposed changes that the Plan Commission does not recommend.

- Potential changes to the Comprehensive Plan's Generalized Future Land Use Map. All the Plan Commission's recommended changes to the May 1, 2018 draft of the GFLU Map have been consolidated onto one map and a corresponding spreadsheet. There are four remaining Plan Commission discussion items, which are highlighted in orange.

- A summary of how UrbanFootprint, a scenario modeling tool, was used during the Imagine Madison planning process. Staff requests that this document be included as appendix in the Plan. It provides information on how Urban Footprint was used for the growth prioritization activities, UrbanFootprint's analysis capabilities for the Madison area, and potential concepts that were developed for the three largest "Transitioning" Activity Centers, which are all planned for Bus Rapid Transit service.
