Introduction

The City of Madison's Urban Design Commission (UDC) has been created to:

- Encourage and promote high quality in the design of new buildings, developments, remodeling, and additions so as to maintain and improve the established standards of property values within the City.
- Foster civic pride in the beauty and nobler assets of the City, and in all other ways possible assure a functionally efficient and visually attractive City in the future.

Types of Approvals

There are three types of requests considered by the UDC:

- Informational Presentation. Applicants may, at their discretion, request to make an Informational Presentation to the UDC prior to seeking any approvals to obtain early feedback and direction before undertaking detailed design. Applicants should provide details on the context of the site, design concept, site and building plans, and other relevant information to help the UDC understand the proposal and provide feedback. (Does not apply to CDR's or Signage Variance requests)
- Initial Approval. Applicants may, at their discretion, request initial approval of a proposal by presenting preliminary design information. As part of their review, the Commission will provide feedback on the design information what should be addressed at Final Approval stage.
- Final Approval. Applicants may request Final Approval of a proposal by presenting all final project details. Recommendations or concerns expressed by the UDC in the initial approval must be addressed at this time.

Presentations to the Commission

Primarily, the UDC is interested in the appearance and design quality of projects. Emphasis should be given to the site plan, landscape plan, lighting plan, building elevations, exterior building materials, color scheme, and graphics.

When presenting projects to the UDC, applicants must fill out a registration slip provided in the meeting room and present it to the Secretary. Presentations should generally be limited to 5 minutes or as extended by motion by consent of the Commission. The Commission will withhold questions until the end of the presentation.

Applicants are encouraged to consider the use of various graphic presentation material including a locator map, photographs, renderings/model, scale drawings of the proposal in context with adjacent buildings/uses/signs, etc., as may be deemed appropriate to describe the project and its surroundings. Graphics should be mounted on rigid boards so that they may be easily displayed. Applicants/presenters are responsible for all presentation materials, AV equipment and easels.

Re: 555 W. Washington Ave.

Ms. Janine Glaeser:

We appreciate the time that the Urban Design Commission has devoted to reviewing our project and we are excited to share our latest designs with the commission. In a project like this, UDC's role is to review the plans and forward a recommendation to the Plan Commission. In conducting its review, UDC is guided by the design standards in the zoning code, and the Downtown Design Standards. Over the course of several meetings, UDC has reviewed our project against those standards and we have made many revisions to date to address the UDC's comments. Below we have summarized the various comments that have been voiced by individual UDC members, followed by a brief explanation of how the most recent plans respond to those comments.

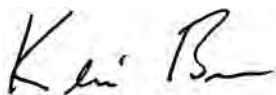

UDC comments from 8/8/18: (responses noted below each point)

- W Washing Elevation – Stone façade: Overhang needs detailing.
 - This has been modified to a brick façade with a traditional parapet edge.
- W Washing Elevation – Stone façade: The second band on the bays needs more definition of a sill.
 - Additional bands have been added to the bays to provide definition for all of the sills.
- The scale doesn't match the surrounding residential. This is not a brownstone as it does not create an edge or complete the corner. Exceptional design benefits from single architectural style or expression. I have objections to the height.
 - The updated design does not focus on a brownstone look and has the brick façade from the sides of the building carried around to the front such that we have a cohesive design with a single style of architecture.
- The two architectural styles are very jarring.
 - The W Washington Elevation has been revised to be predominantly brick to match the rest of the project and the bay elements are cast stone, to match the cast stone base. This has made a much more cohesive building.
- The design is improved from the last one but it doesn't honor the other ones. If you had showed the other side relating to the warehouses that would have strengthened your argument.
 - The overall design is now in line with The Depot project which is located across the street.
- The rhythm is solved but I have a problem with the articulated bays and stone.
 - The amount of stone has been greatly reduced in order to tie the two sides together.

- The entrances are competing with each other.
 - The main entry has been widened while the unit entries on either side have been revised by eliminating the columns that surround them and thus minimizing their presence on that façade.
- The terrace on West Washington is not a garden space. I question if it's appropriate to that level.
 - The amount of landscaping has been reduced in this area.
- Part of our decision is approving the height, depending on the design quality.
- There's a lot of good elements, but we're not sure it's what we would make judgment on.
- It's tempting to read as two separate buildings, it is one building, but it's a stretch. I like the stone material but it doesn't read successfully as two separate buildings.
 - The building has been redesigned to remove a majority of the cast stone and incorporate the brick on all sides of the building with cohesive accent bands and details.
- The style does not work, it's not common to Madison. It's a revival style and I don't know why you'd go with that in that location.
 - The new design has created a more cohesive building and utilizes brick as the main element which ties in well with the surrounding buildings.
- The juxtaposition of what's on top and behind doesn't relate. Taken out of context it is a nice design. Looking at it along the Bedford Street side you can really see that it should be two different buildings.
 - The new design has these merged into one cohesive building.
- I like the height of 3 stories on West Washington, but it's only in height that it relates to anything in the area.
 - The updated design that is predominantly brick now ties in with the buildings that are also located on the other corners of this intersection with West Washington and Bedford Streets.

We appreciate the UDC's input on our project, which has resulted in significant and valuable design changes, making it an exceptional project. We respectfully request the UDC make a positive recommendation to the Plan Commission, and identify any specific elements that may remain of concern so that we may address those concerns when we proceed to Plan Commission on November 5, 2018 for consideration of our zoning application.

Sincerely,

Kevin Burow, AIA

555 W. Washington Ave.
KBA Project #1713

Ms. Janine Glaeser:

The exterior lighting will be a combination of wall sconces and downlights. We are required to provide illumination at each exit door to light the exit pathway. The main entry will have a recessed downlight and each balcony/patio will have a wall sconce light fixture. The exact light fixtures are yet to be determined.

Sincerely,

Kevin Burow, AIA
