We Care about Recycling! Concerts on the Square[®]

- There are 55 locations where patrons can take their trash and recycling throughout the event grounds. It's easy to locate recycling containers; each trash barrel is paired with a clearly marked blue recycling container.
- Recycling and trash container liners are changed out frequently; the crew changes bags when the container is half full. A container with plenty of room in it invites people to take the time to sort recycling from trash and makes recycling easy for even the youngest concert goers. It also ensures that the liner can accommodate the weight of its contents.
- Food vendors are encouraged to use recycled / recyclable packaging materials.
- The cups at the beverage booth are made of recyclable materials.
- Water sold at the beverage booth are packaged in recyclable materials.
- Cardboard boxes from the beverage area and food vendors are broken down flat and put with other materials being recycled.
- A pre-concert announcement reminds patrons to take their trash and recycling to the appropriate containers on the grounds.
- We act as a resource for other special events in Madison, sharing how we recycle and encouraging them to follow suit by providing information and contacts to make recycling accessible and easy.
- Our patrons are avid recyclers; each evening ends with as many recycling bags as trash bags!

Emergency and Rain Plan

Updated 04/03/2019

Purpose

The purpose of the WCO Rain and Emergency Plan is to provide WCO staff, volunteers, and crew with a quick reference to emergency procedures so as to effectively respond to rain or crisis in a manner that will provide efficient and effective results, while providing safety for all.

The WCO plan is summarized in the following pages in a way that will, when followed, give the reader immediate instructions to deal with the situation at hand. When followed, this information will prevent or limit damage to life, limb or property.

Preparedness is key. Stay Calm.

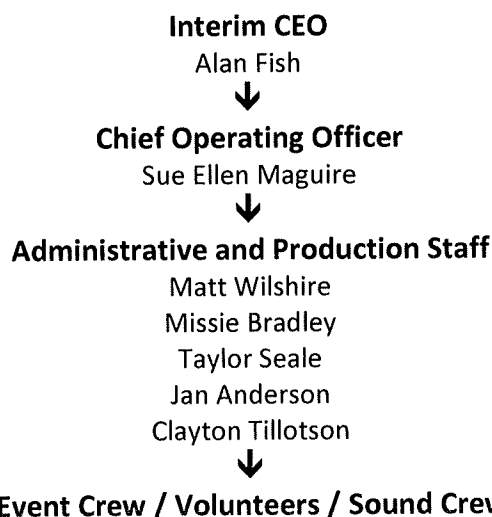

Channel 4 on the radios is reserved for emergencies. Please be aware the public may be within hearing of a crew member's radio and ask everyone to go to Channel 4 and avoid using words like "emergency, accident, or injured."

Chain of Command

When faced with a crisis or emergency situation, a major factor in efficient operation is to follow the chain of command. This will provide the necessary organization and leadership to assist in crisis management.

The CEO is the spokesperson for the Wisconsin Chamber Orchestra. All media inquiries about incidents covered in this manual should be directed to the CEO.

First Aid

1) Stay calm

2) Notify a staff member immediately (navy blue shirts with WCO logo).

-Staff contact points: staff or radio communication to staff are available at the following places:

- Information Booth
- Stage
- All Hospitality entrances to table area

3) Location of First Aid kits:

- Information Booth
- Stage Manager Trunk
- Main Hospitality
- WCO office/warehouse

4) Staff Direction:

a) When administering First Aid remember to protect yourself: gloves, goggles, bodily fluid barriers...

b) Ensure area is safe

c) Generally – when in doubt call for help:

-Insect bites: retrieve epinephrine pen for victim; help them administer (if necessary); call for help

-Allergic reaction: respond with epinephrine pen, if available. WE DO NOT ADMINISTER! You may take the victim's hand and help him/her administer the pen, but we do not do it without the victim's assistance. If possible retain sample of substance that caused reaction for emergency response personnel.

-Choking: administer abdominal thrusts (Heimlich maneuver)

-Apparent heart attack (uncomfortableness, numbness, short breath, sweat, nausea, lightheadedness): calm victim, lie victim down or sit quietly, loosen clothes and jewelry. Remember: these victims are often in denial. Call 911 immediately.

-Apparent fainting (dizziness caused by sudden movement, heat, bad news, etc.): lie victim down, elevate feet, fan, give drink of water...

-Diabetic reaction (sudden change in behavior, sleepiness, hunger, thirst, sweating, seizure...): give victim something with real sugar, sit quietly or lie down.

-Stroke (facial droop on one side, weakness on one side, trouble speaking or understanding, severe headache, confusion, dizziness, loss of balance): keep victim safe.

-Seizure: protect victim by moving objects out of victim's way, place a pad or towel under victim's head

-Burns: remove clothing, clean area under cool running water for 15-30 minutes, cover burn with clean dressing

d) Do not dispense or administer internal medicine. Victims must do this themselves. Walgreens on the Square is open until 10:00 pm on Wednesdays

5) Fill out a report (located in the back of this binder)

Severe Weather and/or Rain

Severe Weather

- 1) In the event of severe weather, or impending severe weather (including damaging winds), Mark will inform Brooks of the decision to encourage audience members to leave the Square and seek shelter in the State Capitol or nearby buildings.
- 2) -Mark will tell the Stage Manager to inform the Musicians to take shelter and to make way for the public to enter building (i.e. case instruments)

-Brooks will call the Capitol Police to request that the State Capitol doors be unlocked to permit people to seek shelter.

-Mark will ask Norman to make an announcement encouraging audience members to seek shelter, and informing them that the Capitol Building has been unlocked for their use.
- 3) -Brooks will radio Jen who will tell the volunteers to take cover

-Brooks will radio crew to take cover

-Mark trouble-shoots

Bottom Line – personal safety for ourselves, crew, musicians, vendors and public, are always top priority. The rest is covered by insurance.

Rain (or threatening rain), but not severe weather

When rain is threatening, or happening (!) we proceed as follows:

- Mark will head to the stage in order to make the rain call
- Sue Ellen and Missie will head to the merchandise booth to pack-up with volunteers and handle money pickups
- Jen will pack up Information Booth and direct volunteers
- Taylor (main Hospitality) will head to Hospitality Areas to get things put away
- Brooks will contact operations staff to put operations plan into action:
 - Storage:
 - Crew chief will head to storage to manage equipment coming back in.
 - Stage:
 - Stage Manager
 - Ask Musicians to clear the stage – taking music with them, if possible
 - Prioritize stage tarps for crew (what gets covered; what to watch out for)
 - Piano is always first – cover and tarp
 - Secure percussion equipment
 - Assist librarian collecting any music left behind by musicians.
 - Brooks
 - Triage the stage for tarp covering (lower breakables, etc.)
 - Secure percussion equipment
 - Sand bag plastic around stage items from your area quickly and safely to the warehouse. In the event of a major weather emergency or an evacuation of the Capitol Square, please report to a staff member at the WCO office (321 East Main St.) to be accounted for or call the WCO office at 257-0638 to alert staff of your safe arrival home (leave a message if no answer).

-Stage Security (report to Stage Manager): Please check in with your area manager to lend a hand protecting items from water or wind damage on the stage. In the event of a major weather emergency or an evacuation of the Capitol Square, please report to a staff member at the WCO office (321 East Main St.) to be accounted for or call the WCO office at 257-0638 to alert staff of your safe arrival home (leave a message if no answer).

-Table Area Detailers (Jen Voth): Please secure your area, protecting items from water or wind damage. In the event of a major weather emergency or an evacuation of the Capitol Square, please report to a staff member at the WCO office (321 East Main St.) to be accounted for or call the WCO office at 257-0638 to alert staff of your safe arrival home (leave a message if no answer).

-Table Area Greeters (Jen Voth): Please secure your area, remove table skirting and take along with binder, easel and sign to the table at the end of the Main Walkway (near statue). If you are willing and able to help, please assist the crew in taking beverage and gift booth supplies quickly and safely to the warehouse. In the event of a major weather emergency or an evacuation of the Capitol Square, please report to a staff member at the WCO office (321 East Main St.) to be accounted for or call the WCO office at 257-0638 to alert staff of your safe arrival home (leave a message if no answer).

-If weather is severe, the first priority is to maintain personal safety, and the safety of patrons.
