ORGANIZATION OVERVIEW

The Midwest Sociological Society (MSS) is a nonprofit, regional, professional society dedicated to building community among sociologists and to advancing sociological knowledge, teaching, and practice for social scientific purposes and social betterment. MSS was established in 1936 to provide a professional home for sociologists in the Midwest and around the country. We are the largest regional sociology organization in the United States, with approximately 1,200 members. The immediate 9-state region of the MSS includes Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, North Dakota, South Dakota, and Wisconsin.

MSS is seeking a conference hotel for 2024 that will accommodate our needs outlined below. The contracted hotel will work with us to meet the needs of our conference planner(s), executive director and guests.

PROJECT DETAILS

The MSS Annual Meeting will celebrate its 87th anniversary in 2024. This four-day conference brings 800-1200 individuals from around the world together to share research, encourage students and support the field of sociology. Included in the conference are large general sessions, breakout sessions, committee and board meetings, various plenary sessions and a Commons/Exhibits space. We also offer excursions or tours to locations within the city based on the interests of our meeting planners.

Meetings are held in Chicago every third year and typically earn our highest attendance. The conference rotates through other Midwest cities in the interim years. At times, MSS will hold our meeting in conjunction with another smaller sociology organization in an effort to enhance the quality of the meeting. When the meeting occurs in the days immediately before Easter, the conference will begin on Wednesday and conclude on Saturday. Meetings held at other times will begin on Thursday and conclude on Sunday.

The Commons/Exhibit space includes space for 10-15 exhibit booths. Exhibitors include graduate school programs, local nonprofit organizations, affiliated groups, and book publishers. The space will need to be secured when the Commons is not open to the public (i.e. overnight). The Commons area is also used as a gathering and networking space for attendees, a space to hold the poster session (approximately 5-8 double-sided large poster display boards), and the location for serving the annual Ice Cream Social.

MSS will contract an AV provider for technical needs, including projectors, screens and sound equipment. Our conference is not “flashy” in terms of AV presentation, so there is no anticipated rigging or facility modification needs. We will also contract with a meeting services company to provide pipe, drape and supplies for our exhibit space.

In addition to the conference meeting space, we recommend the hotel to our guests as the hotel of choice for room night stays. You will find a room block outline below. The majority of our guests come in on Thursday or Friday and leave Saturday or Sunday. Attendees are encouraged but not required to attend the duration of the conference. Many attendees are students and are strategic in sharing rooms in an effort to lower their conference expenses. Reservations will be made primarily via individual reservations made by the attendees.

Our attendees include students and professionals in the field of sociology. Generally speaking, about 90% of our members attend our conference.

- Approximately 25% of our membership is located outside of the immediate 9-state region.
- Approximately 48% of our members are students, either undergraduate or graduate.
- Our membership includes representation from 46 states and 11 countries outside of the United States.

PROPOSAL REQUIREMENTS:

- Meeting must be held in late March or early April. When meetings occur in Chicago in the days immediately before Easter, we begin on Wednesday and end on Saturday. All other meetings begin on Thursday and end on Sunday.
- No minimum food and beverage expenditure.
- No charge for meeting rooms in lieu of meeting a minimum room night commitment (typically 80% of guest room block).
- One complimentary meeting room from noon Friday to noon Saturday for up to 40 people in September of the year preceding the conference for the Pre-Planning Meeting. Dates to be mutually determined.
- All-day early arrival on Wednesday (or Tuesday) prior to conference start date.
