Community Development Authority

The Community Development Authority (CDA) was created to address the issues of affordable housing and economic opportunity for low- and moderate-income residents of the City of Madison.

As a public entity, the CDA encourages and facilitates responsible development and redevelopment in the City of Madison by forming partnerships with developers, lenders, investors, nonprofit organizations, and federal, state, and local government. The Authority's work focuses to meet the highest needs and aspirations of the people of Madison, builds upon a community's assets, and results in economic and social opportunities so that Madison communities may grow and prosper.

The CDA's mission is to make sure low-income families have safe, affordable, quality housing in communities offering empowerment, economic opportunity, and a vibrant living environment.

Sheila's Story

Sheila Freaener enrolled in the ROSS program in 2018. She worked with the Service Coordinator on creating her own personal goals. One of Sheila's goals was to get her GED within a year. Sheila worked very hard despite obstacles along the way, and on June 14, 2018 she graduated with her GED from Madison College. Sheila is scheduled to begin in the BRIDGES program at Madison College in the fall and ultimately hopes to get her Associate's Degree from Madison College.
