I am not in favor of lowering the speed limits in Madison.

A – they are not too high now. IMO some are too low.

B – lowering speed limits will lead to larger differential speeds because some people will continue to drive at what they consider to be a reasonable and safe speed.

C – this would reduce the traffic each road can handle, meaning that we would need to build more roads or widen them. We don't need wider roads.

D – this would increase travel time.
