Next Steps:

We are excited to announce our formal partnership with the Local Voices Network (LVN), a local non-profit organization that brings together human listening and machine learning to fuel public processes and community decision-making. As the PCOB's volunteer liaison to the <enter name of organization/group>, I look forward to sharing information regarding ways to support our collection of thoughts and perspectives about civilian oversight of the police from members of your team and your constituents. You can expect a follow-up message from me within the next 30 days.

Thank you!
