2. 32850 Wisconsin Open Meetings Requirements

- SC members can be fined if they do not follow Wisconsin Open Meetings Law.
- Chair of SC should always start meetings by asking City staff whether meeting was properly noticed, e.g. a notice was published by the City Clerk at least 24 hours before the meeting date/time.
- Every SC meeting agenda must be preceded with a properly noticed agenda that is detailed enough so that members of the public know the item will be taken up by the SC.
- Quorum for EEEPY SC is six members and a negative quorum is three members.
- SC members may share things with their neighborhood associations that come up at the SC meetings. However, no SC business should be conducted outside of SC meetings and SC members should always copy City staff on any email messages they send or receive concerning SC business.
- SC members should not communicate with each other via email and that includes replying to all when SC members receive emails from City staff.

- Alders can participate during SC meetings as they are considered members of the SC body. However, Alders may not vote on any motions before the SC.
- The Chair should not vote and if and when the Co-Chair acts as Chair, that person should not vote. However, the Chair, or any person acting as the Chair, may vote whenever their vote will change the outcome of the motion. The SC may adopt a written rule of procedure allowing for a Chair to vote at all times.
- Any subcommittees created by the SC must follow Wisconsin Open Meetings Law.
- SC members who have any questions about Wisconsin Open Meetings Law or related topics may call the City Attorney's Office (608-266-4511) and ask for City Attorney Roger Allen, Patricia Lauten or Michael May.

Plan Development

Planning Process - explanation of the plan purpose, scope, work plan/timeline, public participation, and the roles of the steering committee, alders and city staff. SC members are encouraged to solicit input from their neighborhoods and targeted outreach will be provided in the Superior Street area.

Appointed Committee Members

There are currently 8 appointed members of the 10 member EEPY SC. One of the members had to resign. There are other applicants that the Mayor's Office may pursue.

Open Superior Street Position - keep Superior Street position open and continue recruiting for a couple of months. Use such approaches as direct contact with potential candidates, poster in Manna, information through the Sherman Neighborhood Association and other approaches. Keeping the position open will not alter the SC quorum of six members.

Open Business Position - a small business owner has applied and the application is pending review by the Mayor and confirmation by the Common Council.

Potential Alternates - no alternate positions will be pursued; SC will make a concerted effort to engage other individuals and groups throughout the planning process.
