Yes, I want to speak

Spoke about the Madison Metropolitan School District (MMSD) and the removal of the Student Resource Officers (SRO) and shared scenarios in which an SRO provided safety to students. She would like to see the city budget to find resources and support needs with repeat juvenile offenders, homelessness, drug addiction, and domestic abuse issues. She spoke about a recent budget meeting and the discussion that occurred on the cost of overtime and the police department using up their overtime in the first two quarters but cited the department as being understaffed with working long hours with record shots fired incidents, home invasions, and other crimes. She would like to see the police department to discuss community policing if that was neglected. She would not like to see the police defunded.
