Body

The current contract with the City for Fire Department response as a Regional Hazardous Materials Response Team expires on December 31, 2011. The contract extension with the State of Wisconsin, Department of Military Affairs, Division of Emergency Management and the City would cover six months from January 1, 2012 through June 30, 2012. The State Hazardous Materials response system is currently under review by the State which is the reason for another six-month extension.

Contract language as to indemnification and insurance provisions does not comply with the City's standard policy for contracts. The language in the extension is the same as contained in the most current contract.
